Brenda Sue Mosher Named Small Business Person of the Year 2003

Casper – The Wyoming District Office of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has named Brenda Sue Mosher, owner of Interim HealthCare of Wyoming, Inc. Small Business Person of the Year 2003.

This award is given to an individual who owns and operates or bears principal responsibility for operating a small business that demonstrates a substantiated history as an established business. Other evaluation criteria includes, growth in number of employees, increase in sales, innovative product or service, response to adversity and the contributions by the nominee to aid community oriented projects. The President of the United States recognizes contributions of the small business community to the American economy and society by proclamation each year.

In 1991, Brenda purchased a franchise territory from Interim HealthCare Inc. and founded Interim HealthCare of Wyoming, Inc. Since the inception of her Wyoming owned and operated business, Brenda has developed programs for participation in the Medicare and Medicaid programs, has developed a variety off referral sources and provided part-time staffing solutions. At Interim HealthCare of Wyoming, Brenda has been working to improve the lives of Central Wyoming clients and their families for more than 11 years. She and her staff strive to match the needs and preferences of their clients. Currently Interim employs 11 full-time and 36 part-time employees and provides care to more than 400 people in the Casper community per year.
